

I oppose the weakening of Indiana's law to allow banks, long distance carriers, credit card companies, etc which would allow them to call me as much as they would like. I don't have time to be bother with these unwanted calls. My time in the evening is spent preparing dinner, helping kids with homework and getting ready for the next day. I don't even have time for myself, so why would I want to be bothered by solicitors? Please don't allow them to call.
